

Exeter Flying Post

December 19 1805

WHEAL LUCKY TIN MINE.

On Thursday the 26th of December inst., will be sold by public auction at Mr. Bartell's the White Hart Inn, Plymouth, at three o'clock in the afternoon, 12 forfeited 64th Shares in that well known and valuable TIN-MINE, called WHEAL LUCKY, situate in the Forest of Dartmoor, and about 6 miles from Tavistock. The above mine is now in full working, and has an engine, stamping-mills, &c., which has been erected at great expense. Four tons of tin have been made within the last eight months.

Dated 11th December 1805.

Extracted from the West Country Studies Library. Exeter.