Ingleton Colliery.

In consequence of notice given during the course of last week that a reduction in some portion of the colliery would take place, a portion of the workmen assembled in the club room at the Bridge Inn, on Saturday last, to consider the matter over. A deputation of six of the workmen was appointed to wait on Mr Danson, the Manager of the colliery, and we are glad to state that an amenable and satisfactory settlement was agreed upon. The men resumed work on Monday morning.
